A Note About HERI Constructs

We use the CIRP constructs throughout this PowerPoint to help summarize important information about your faculty from the HERI Faculty Survey.

Constructs

Constructs tap into key features of the faculty experience by aggregating questions from the HERI Faculty Survey. These faculty traits and institutional practices contribute to faculty's research productivity, overall satisfaction, and engagement with students in the classroom.

Teaching Practices

Student-Centered Pedagogy

Student-Centered Pedagogy measures the extent to which faculty use student-centered teaching and evaluation methods in their courses.

Construct Items

- Student presentations
- Student evaluations of each others' work
- Class discussions
- Cooperative learning (small groups)
- Experiential learning/Field studies
- Group projects
- Reflective writing/Journaling
- Student inquiry to drive learning

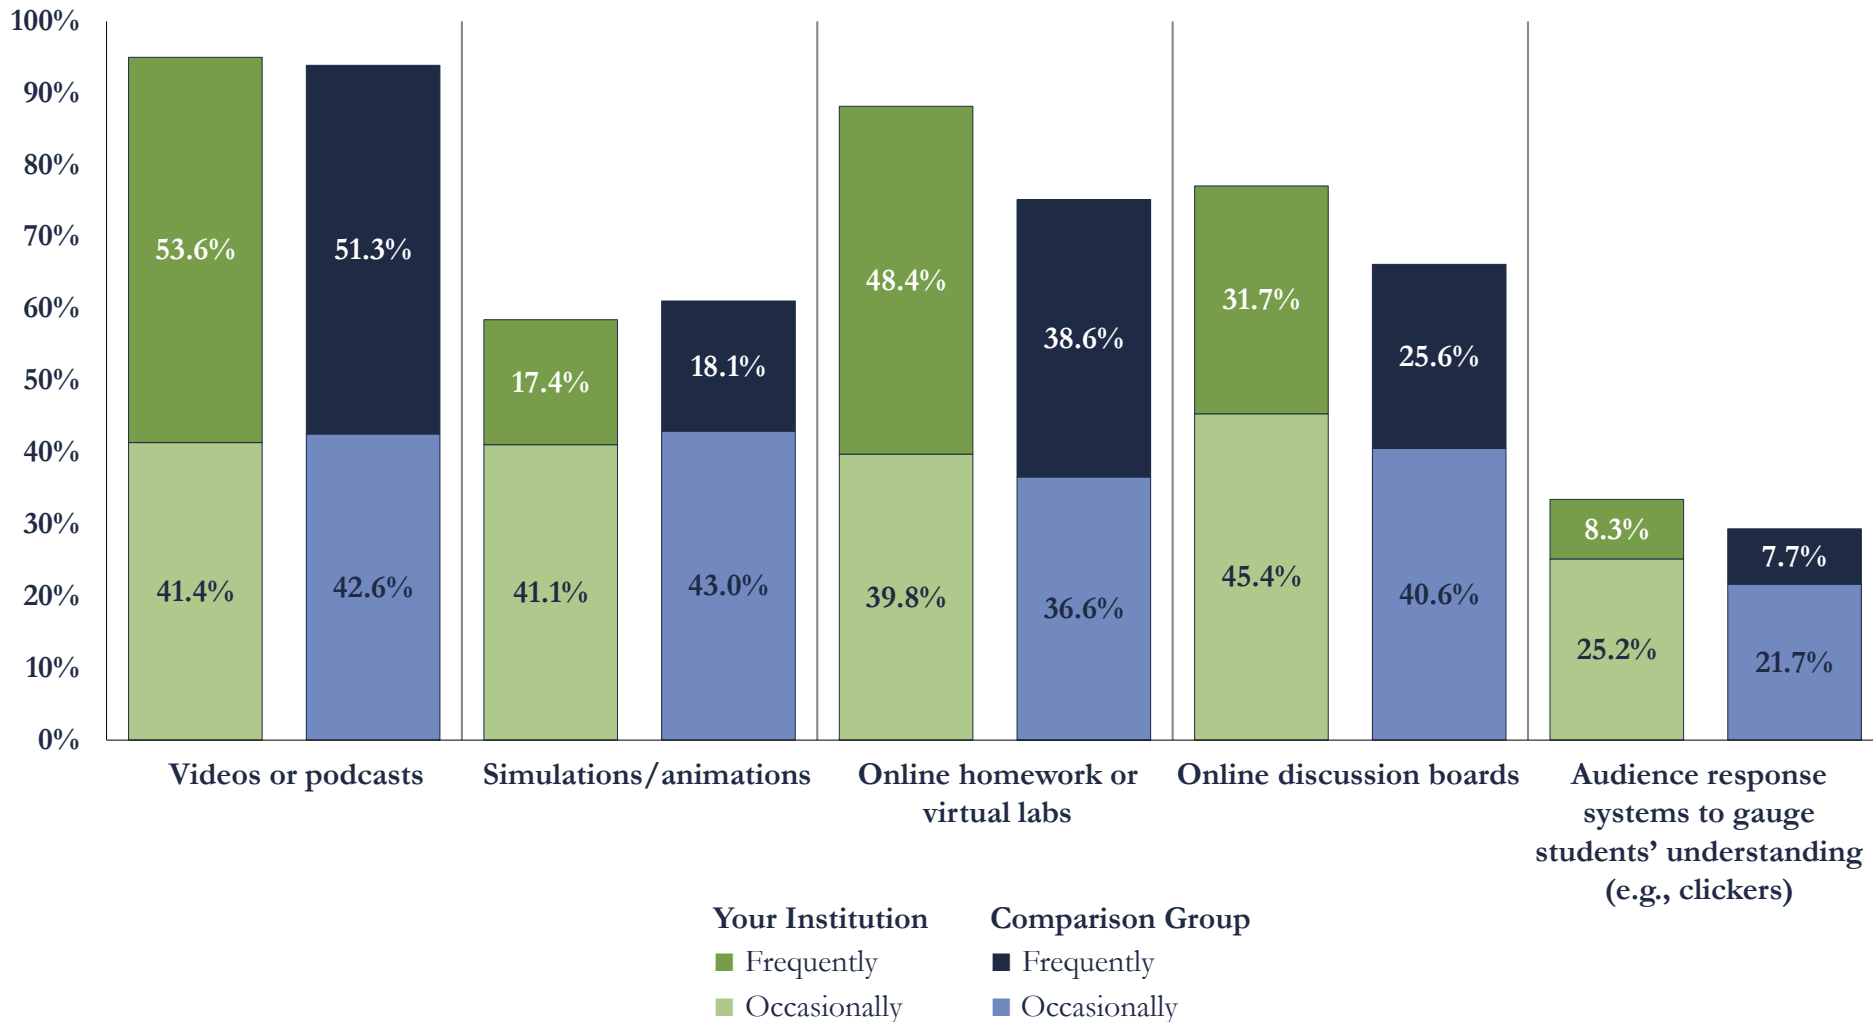

Habits of Mind

These items measure the extent to which faculty structure courses to develop habits of mind for lifelong learning in students.

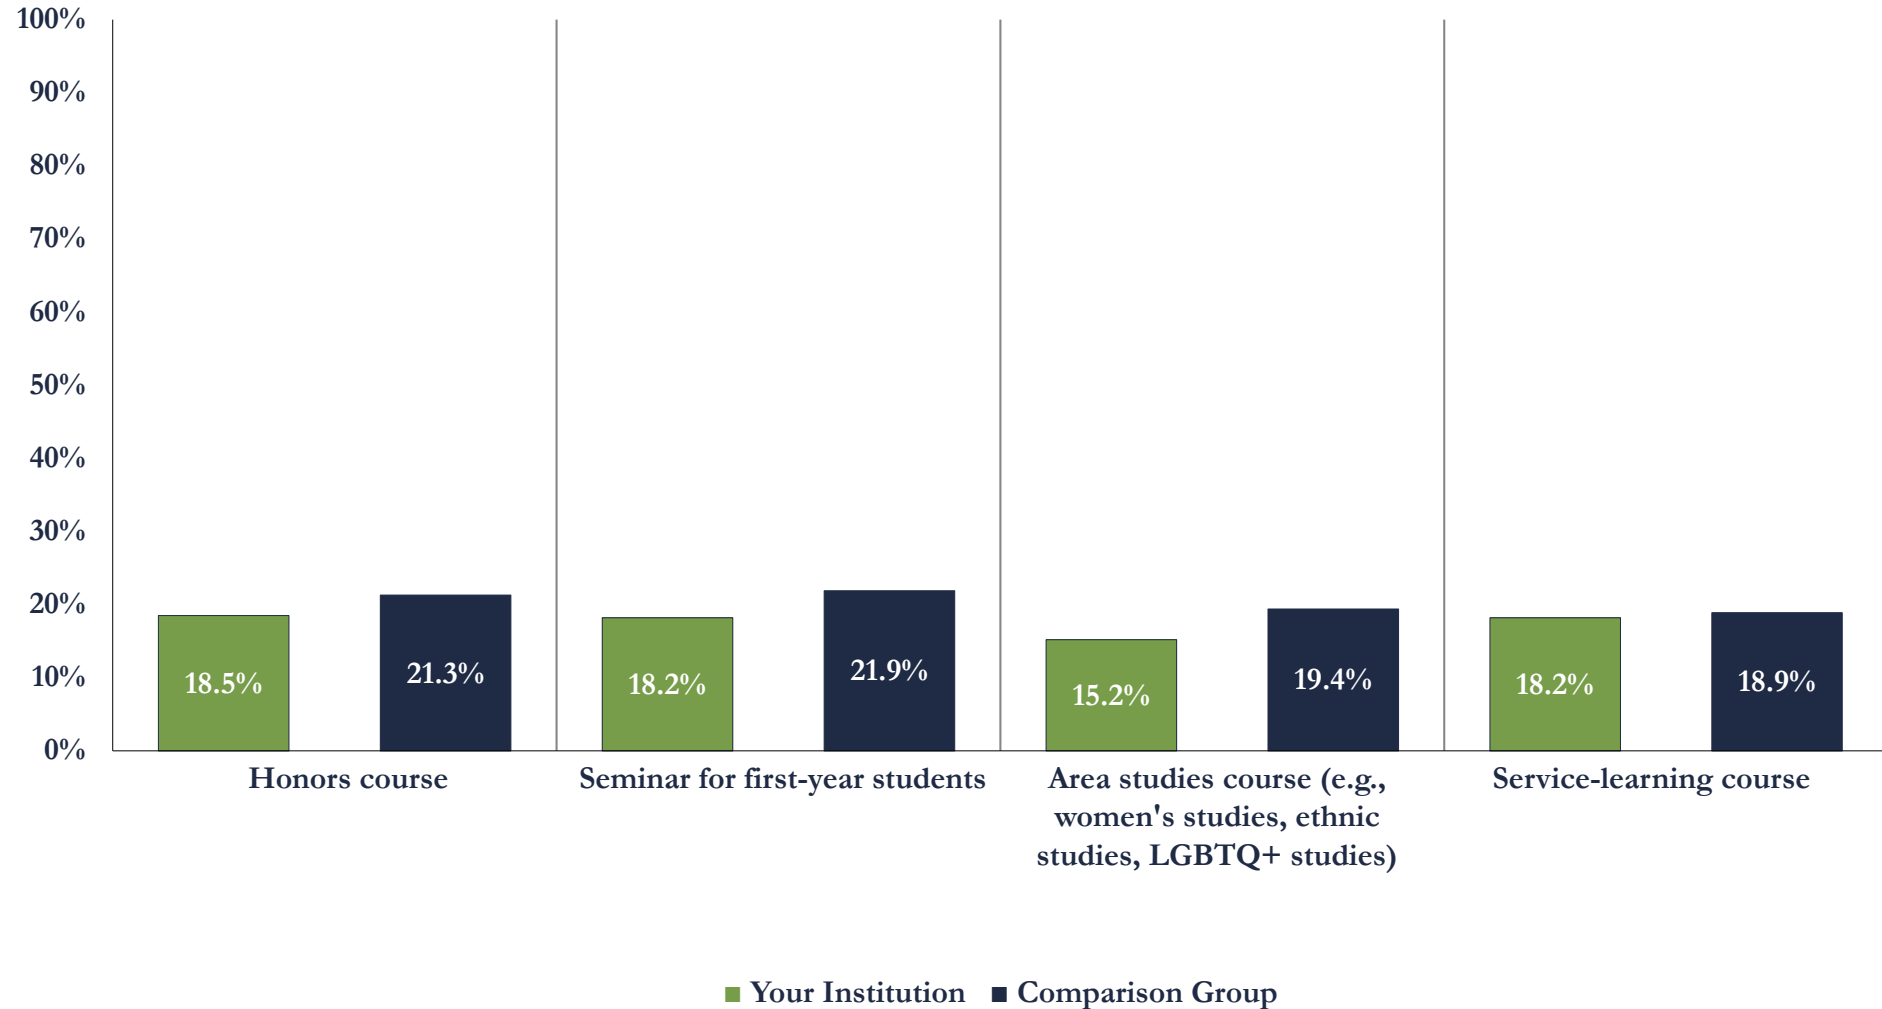

Technology in the Classroom

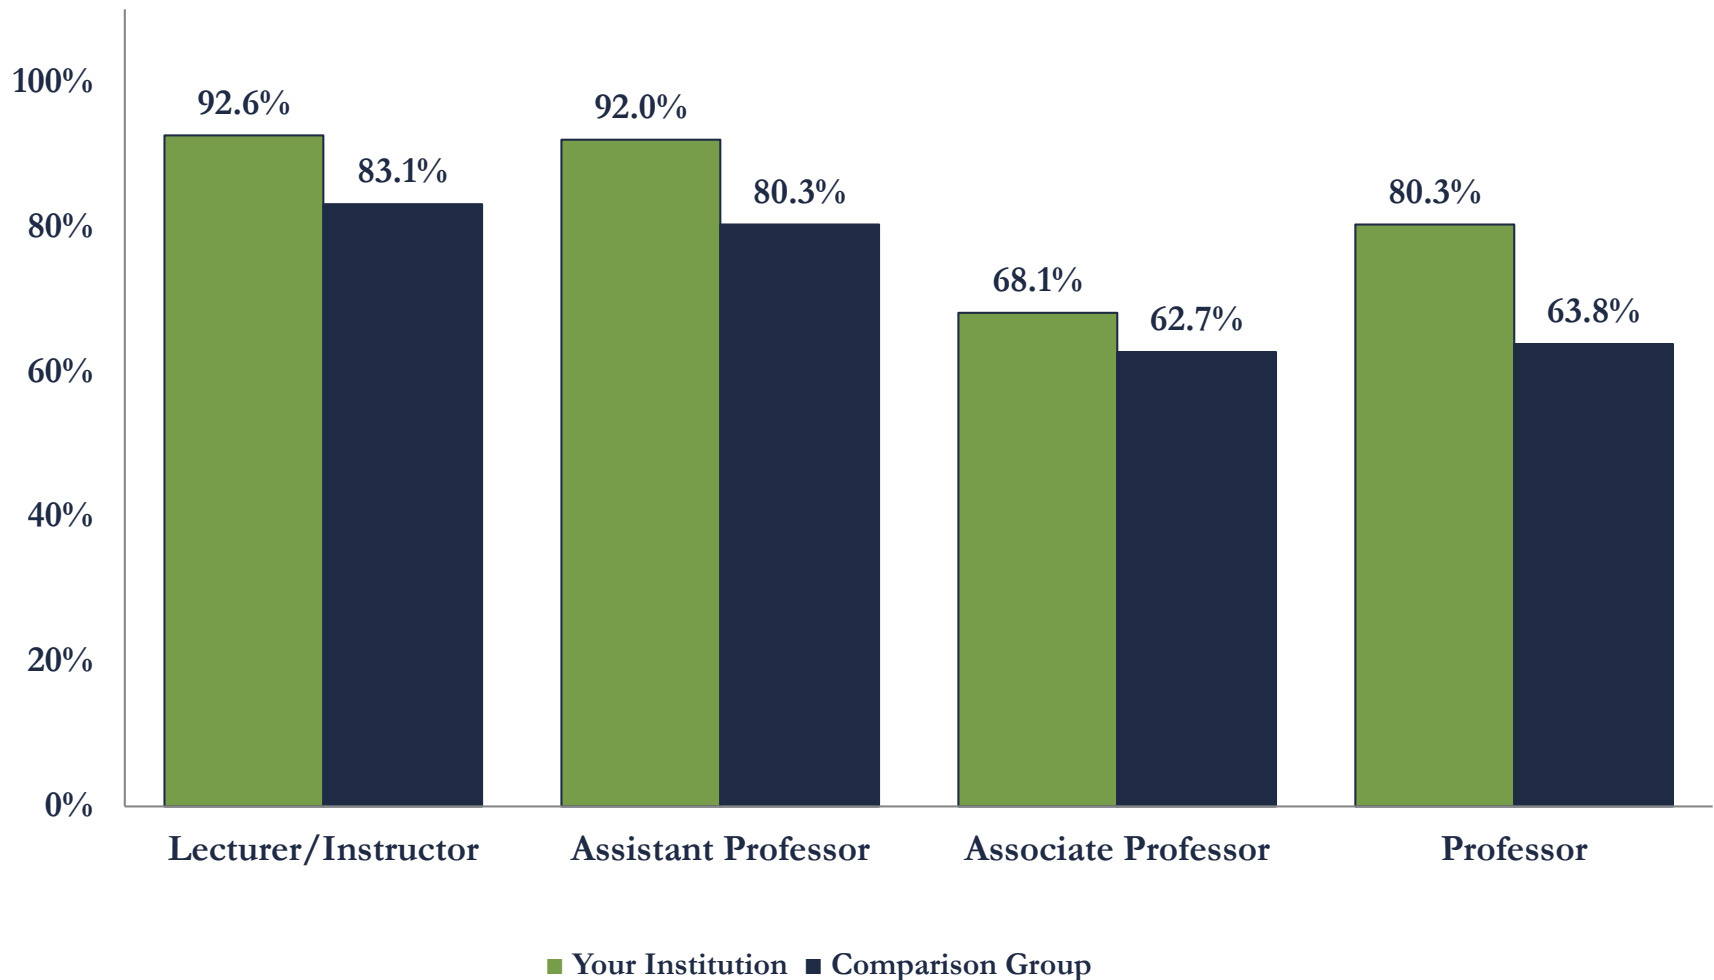

Classrooms are becoming more technologically advanced, and faculty increasingly utilize new technologies to engage students.

Types of Courses Taught During the Past Three Years

Percent Teaching Three or More Courses This Term, by Rank

Research Activities

Scholarly Productivity

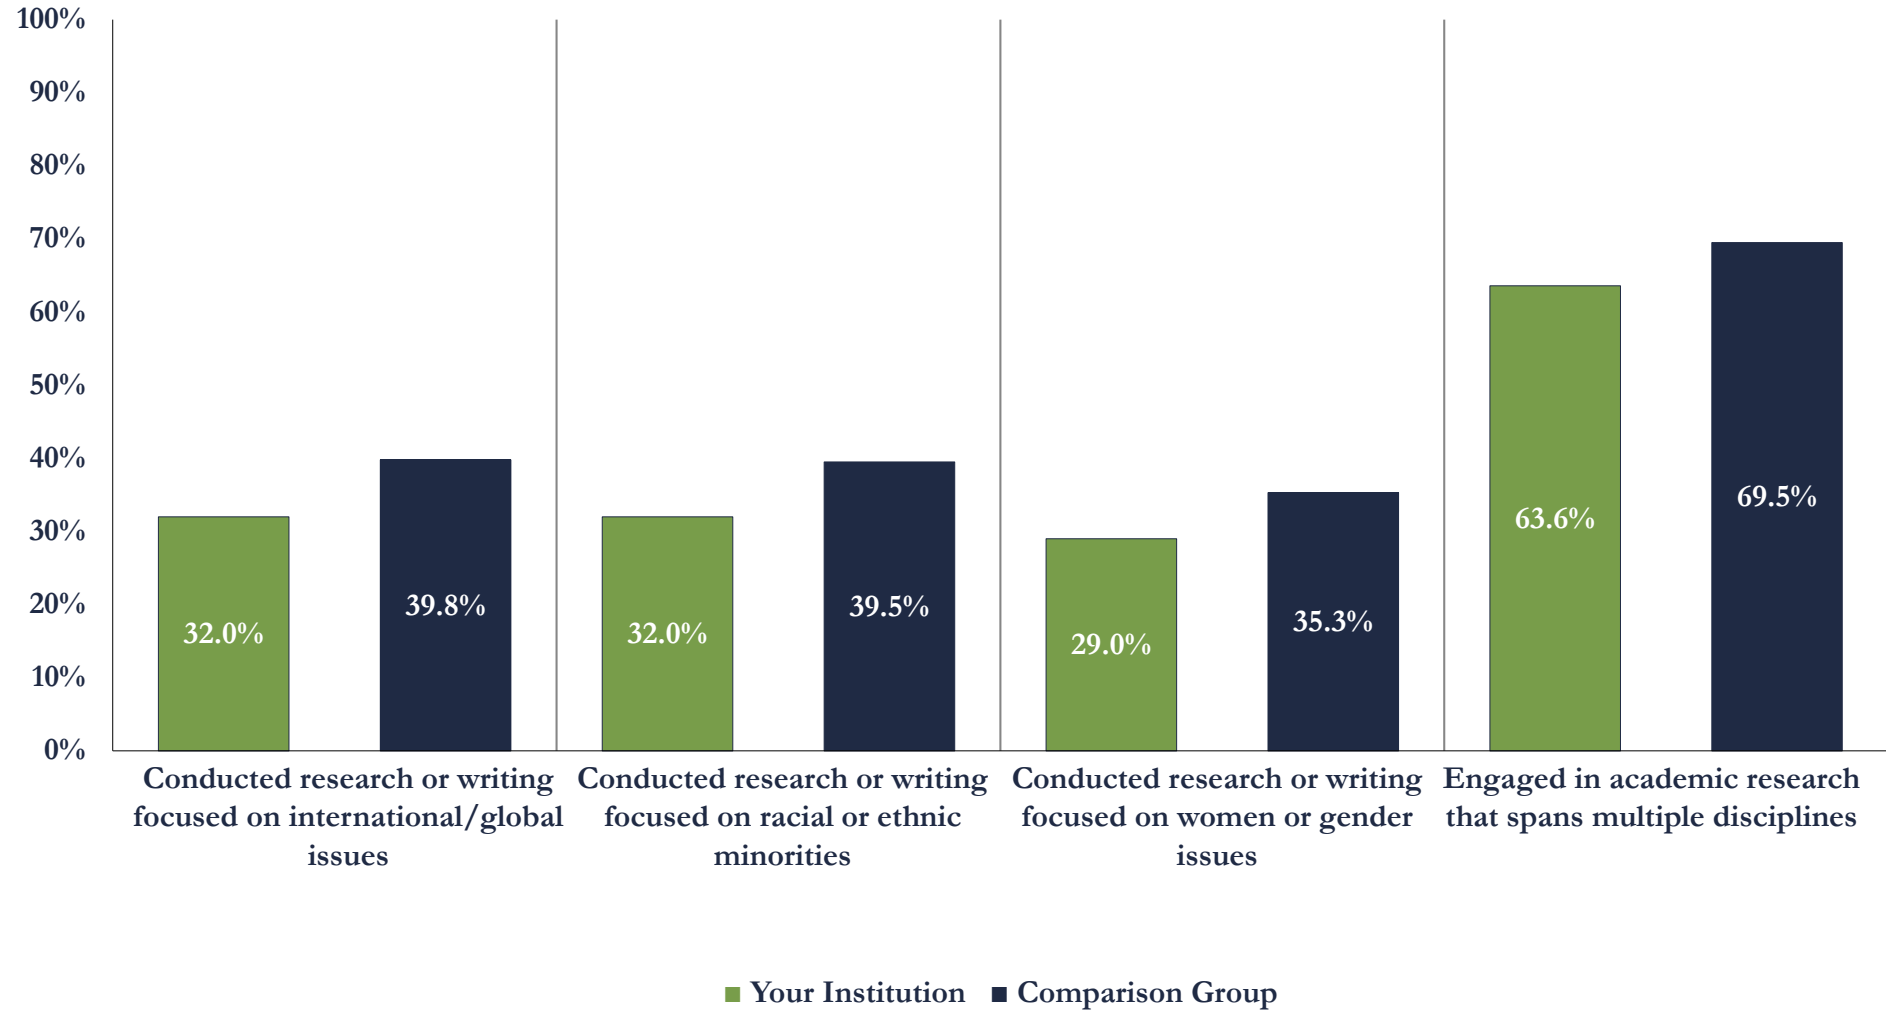

Scholarly Productivity is a unified measure of the scholarly activity of faculty

Construct Items

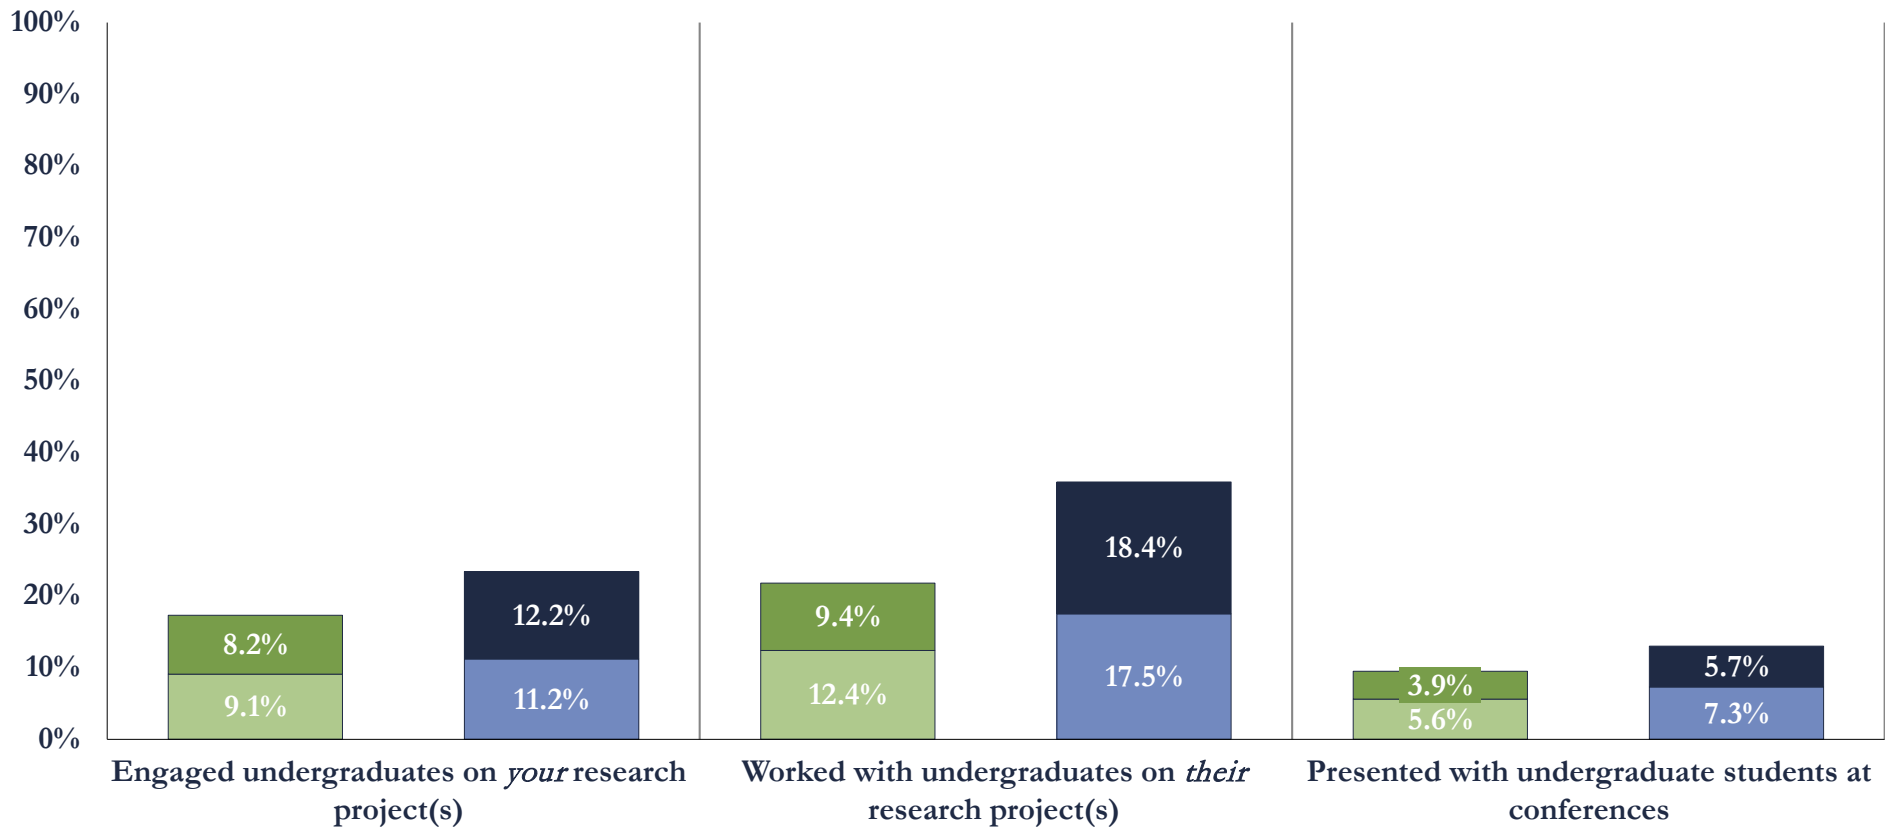

- Articles in academic and professional journals
- Chapters in edited volumes
- Professional writings published or accepted for publication in the last three years

Foci of Faculty Research

Faculty Collaboration With Undergraduates

With undergraduate research becoming a priority at many campuses, faculty are increasingly being asked to work with undergraduates on research projects.
