University of Wisconsin Whitewater

Gaming Technology Emphasis

Students in the Technology emphasis will develop the programming skills and software development expertise required for cross-platform real-time interactive graphics and game development. Students focus on building a solid base of programming skills necessary to take on real-world challenges related to developing games, mobile apps, websites and more.

Example courses: C++ sequence, Artificial Intelligence, Game Engine/Modding, Internship, Independent Study

Technology Career Opportunities

- Game developer
- Software developer
- Level designer
- Casual game developer
- Mobile app developer