

AMERICAN INDIAN STUDIES COURSES SPRING 2022

AMERIND 102 Introduction to American Indian Studies

Holly Denning | TuTh 3:30-4:45, Hyer 213

Come learn about the varied challenges facing American Indians and non-Indians in contemporary U.S. society through examination of historical events which set into motion ongoing patterns of discrimination. The course takes an interdisciplinary approach blending History, Sociology, Environmental and Religious studies. Deep reflection is encouraged and a focus on Wisconsin Native Nations will provide regional relevance.
