UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-WHITEWATER
MAY 17, 2025

More than 155 years ago, on April 21, 1868, the state's second normal school opened its doors to the first class of 48 students and nine faculty members.

A progressive spirit guided the development of the institution as it evolved from a normal school, which trained teachers for one-room schools, to Whitewater State Teachers College (1927), Wisconsin State College-Whitewater (1951), Wisconsin State University-Whitewater (1964) and as a member of the 13 four-year institutions in the University of Wisconsin System (1971), now the Universities of Wisconsin.

Today, UW-Whitewater is a leading comprehensive university serving almost 12,000 full- and part-time students with 61 undergraduate majors, 21 master's degree programs, one doctoral degree and one education specialist degree in the colleges of Arts and Communication, Business and Economics, Education and Professional Studies, Integrated Studies, and Letters and Sciences. The university awards more than 2,650 degrees every year.

Throughout its history, UW-Whitewater has produced graduates who have actively contributed to the growth of the state and nation. Student learning is the paramount focus of the university's programs and services.

The university takes pride in its regional leadership, national presence and global vision. Many of its academic programs are among the best in the country.

STUDENT SPEAKER

KYLIE BILELLO

Whether it means rolling up her sleeves and helping women on the other side of the globe or promoting the importance of a life-saving technique, Kylie Bilello readily and willingly gives of her time.

Throughout her time on campus, the Menomonee Falls High School graduate has been involved in the American Marketing Association's UW-Whitewater chapter, where she serves as the social impact division president. In her final weeks as an undergraduate student, she and other AMA members hosted a CPR and AED training event on campus. For Bilello, spreading the word about the importance of having such rapid response skills is very personal.

"Nine years ago, I suffered a sudden cardiac arrest when I was 12 years old. I ended up having open-heart surgery. The only reason I'm here is CPR. I think it's a really important and valuable skill that you can learn."

In the summer of 2024, she and three other UW-Whitewater AMA students as well as an advisor traveled to Antigua, Guatemala, to volunteer. The group worked with a Guatemalan group known as ProChapina, or For the Women. Bilello and the other AMA students helped create a website and assisted in social marketing outreach to further bolster ProChapina's message.

Bilello credits a number of UW-Whitewater faculty in helping her forge her own career goals and navigate life as a college student, including John DeGraff, who recently retired from UW-Whitewater's College of Business and Economics and was a longtime advisor of the AMA.

"He just always believed in me and wanted to see me succeed. He'd push me to try new things, do new things, experience new things. He really opened my eyes and helped me realize I'm capable of doing so many things."

Bilello said Ruth Hansen, an associate professor of management, helped instill an appreciation for nonprofits.

"She's been a wonderful instructor. She knows her stuff, and she really just wants me to succeed. She pushes me to do my best."

Megan Matthews, a senior lecturer of management, also had an important role in shaping Bilello's career goals.

"She was a bundle of joy. She had so much energy and reminded me that I can have that as well. I don't have to hide that part of me."

Bilello, who is earning a BBA in management with an emphasis in nonprofit management and is looking to further her education in graduate school, said she is grateful for the cornucopia of different experiences she has had on campus.

"When I toured the campus and experienced it for the first time, it just felt like home. It felt like a community where you can do what you want to do; you can have all of the opportunities if you go and get them." ♦

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

LYNN GARDINIER

Lynn Gardinier knew she enjoyed and appreciated the core principles of accounting when she had an opportunity to take an introductory course in high school.

At UW-Whitewater, Gardinier realized the profession allowed her to combine her interest in numbers with her love of working with people and knew she found her calling, one that resulted in a decades-long career with Baker Tilly, a coast-to-coast advisory, tax and assurance firm. She said the firm leads with its core values of integrity, passion, stewardship and belonging — values she experienced through her education at UW-Whitewater.

On campus, Gardinier said her involvement in the campus chapter of Beta Alpha Psi — the international honor society for accounting, finance and information systems students — was an invaluable experience.

“I found it very beneficial,” Gardinier said of Beta Alpha Psi. “It provided a broader real life look into many aspects of the accounting profession.”

Beta Alpha Psi served as a platform where Gardinier was able to hear talks and meet personally with representatives of accounting firms. As a student, Gardinier also worked in UW-Whitewater’s accounting services office for several years.

After graduating from UW-Whitewater in 1990, Gardinier began her career at what then was known as Virchow Krause & Company. In 2009, the firm changed its name to Baker Tilly. Today, Gardinier specializes in accounting, assurance and consulting services for manufacturers and distributors, primarily for businesses within the Midwest. As a principal and market leader in Baker Tilly’s Janesville office, Gardinier takes part in groups such as Forward Janesville.

As she grew deeper into her career, Gardinier said UW-Whitewater remained top-of-mind, and she continued to give back as opportunities arose.

“I’ve been able to stay in touch with UW-Whitewater since I graduated,” Gardinier said. “I did interviewing, career fairs and Beta Alpha Psi events whenever I could.”

Over the years, Gardinier said she also stayed in touch with Robert Gruber, a longtime UW-Whitewater accounting professor who was instrumental in forming an advisory board for the Department of Accounting at UW-Whitewater, and Gardinier was a part of the inaugural group of participants.

Gardinier also serves on the Advisory Board for the College of Business and Economics and supports university funds like the Robert Gruber Accounting Professorship, the Warhawk Accounting Advancement Fund, and the College of Business and Economics.

For a person who works with numbers, Gardinier said UW-Whitewater’s own statistics speak for themselves, and she is grateful to have been a student of the university. She and Smokey, her husband of 37 years, have two children who are also proud alumni.

“I think the number of students who graduate from UW-Whitewater with a job already in hand speaks volumes,” Gardinier said. “It’s a place that prepares you for the real world and provides great opportunities through internship programs and experiences.” ♦

WARHAWKS GIVE FUND

Warhawk Bold: Soar Together, Give Back Strong!

Congratulations to our graduating Warhawks and to the families and friends who supported their academic journeys and are here to cheer them on! We are so excited to see what our graduates do in the world, and we hope they always feel Warhawk pride for their campus home.

These students made it to this milestone through hard work, and their achievement is remarkable. Every year, some of our Warhawks struggle to stay in school, unable to meet their tuition payments with the financial aid, loans, student jobs and parent resources they have. Some are able to achieve their higher education goals only because of the scholarships and other resources that our Warhawks Give fund provides.

Your gift to our Warhawks Give Fund — also referred to as the Greatest Needs Fund — directly supports the university's driving purpose: success for students.

Visit uww.edu/foundation/gradgift to find out how your donation of $20.25 in honor of this graduation year can help keep students in school, so one day their family and friends can be sitting where you are right now — celebrating them and imagining their bright future!

STUDENT SPEAKER

MEG HAYES

Meg Hayes is overcome with gratitude as she takes stock of her experiences at UW-Whitewater and prepares to graduate with a Bachelor of Arts in English with a minor in theatre.

“The professors here genuinely want to see you improve; they will challenge you to succeed. The friends that you make here are one-of-a-kind. I think of this as my second home.”

Hayes, a graduate of Northland Pines High School in Eagle River, said she came to UW-Whitewater with a shy streak, but will be closing out her undergraduate experience as a bolder woman — and she credits innumerable people she has encountered on campus with helping her become the best version of herself. Along the way, she was named to the Dean’s List nine times.

On campus, the stage has been one of the most important platforms Hayes has used to grow as a person, both as a performer and behind the scenes. She has been a part of such disparate productions as “Much Ado About Nothing,” where she played the character of Conrade, and “A Place with the Pigs,” where she was a part of the scenery run crew. Hayes also participated in “Outrunnable,” a four-part miniseries that touches on the difficulties of grief and addiction and has been broadcast on UWW-TV.

Hayes says former lecturer Sara J. Griffin, a 2007 alumna, consistently encouraged her to stretch her acting muscles and homed in on some of her weaknesses, including a propensity to be her own worst critic.

“I’m always that type of person who wants to improve and tends to be a little more critically judgmental of herself. She has a uniqueness, as a professor. She knows my weakness in acting, and she knows how I can become better. I felt very challenged in her classes because I know that she wants me to improve and sees potential in me.”

Hayes took part in a number of activities and organizations while on campus, including one where she was able to explore her Christian faith on a deeper level through the campus chapter of the student organization Cru.

“If I hadn’t gotten involved in Cru, there’s a chance I would have switched to just online classes. When I think of the friends and the connections I’ve made, it’s been incredible.”

Hayes said Cru helped give her a firm foundation.

“I think my faith has changed by seeing how the world works, and seeing how much the people in this group love and care about others. Some of the friends in the club have been with me through the hardest moments that I’ve had on campus.”

Hayes, who describes UW-Whitewater “as a place with vibrant energy,” has expansive ambitions for the future. She is interested in furthering her acting, with a desire to continue performing in the theater. She also is interested in becoming an author of children’s books. ♦

JULIE ANDING

When she first arrived at UW-Whitewater's, Julie Anding was in unfamiliar territory as a first-generation member of her family pursuing higher education.

The nurturing environment interspersed throughout the campus, however, ignited a love of learning and serving other people that continues to this day. Reflecting on her time on campus, Anding said she sees how relationships with faculty and staff, along with personal experiences played a pivotal role that helped define what she wanted to pursue as a career.

"I think UW-Whitewater did a great job of nurturing me along the way. It gave me great experiences. The faculty and the staff are just outstanding, in terms of how they work with students."

Anding plugged into campus life in a number of ways throughout her time as a UW-Whitewater student. Participation in intramural sports was one such avenue that eventually led to an on-campus job at the recreation center, where she refereed volleyball matches.

Anding volunteered as a peer mentor as an undergraduate student, an experience that played a part in her first job at the University of Wisconsin-Parkside, where she was a career counselor and academic advisor for five years, after she earned her undergraduate degree in psychology in 1990 and a graduate degree in guidance and counseling in 1992.

"It was through some of the relationships that I developed in that office that led me to continue on," Anding said, referring to the peer mentoring opportunity at UW-Whitewater. "It got me thinking, 'Oh, this is a career option. I could do this. I could help students.'"

After UW-Parkside, her professional journey led her to a 26-year career with Harley-Davidson. Anding arrived in 1997, and she followed the same core tenets that guided her through her time on the UW-Whitewater and UW-Parkside campuses — take advantage of opportunities as they arise.

"It was a great place to work because I felt like there were always opportunities to take on new challenges. The business was constantly evolving, and it was exciting to be a part of such a legendary brand."

She closed out her long-running career with Harley-Davidson two years ago after holding multiple titles within the C-Suite of the company. Her last role was as the motorcycle manufacturer's vice president of inclusive stakeholder management.

Anding's desire to give back has been demonstrated in numerous ways over the years, including serving a four-year stint as president of the Harley-Davidson Foundation.

Her alma mater has also been close to her heart, as evidenced by her service as a board member on the UW-Whitewater Foundation and on the Dean's Advisory Board in the College of Letters and Sciences.

"You can find something that you love, because it's there. There are these incredible opportunities to meet amazing people, to get close to the faculty and get close to the staff. This is a place where you can get a world-class education." ♦

Warhawk Bold: Soar Together, Give Back Strong!

Congratulations to our graduating Warhawks and to the families and friends who supported their academic journeys and are here to cheer them on! We are so excited to see what our graduates do in the world, and we hope they always feel Warhawk pride for their campus home.

These students made it to this milestone through hard work, and their achievement is remarkable. Every year, some of our Warhawks struggle to stay in school, unable to meet their tuition payments with the financial aid, loans, student jobs and parent resources they have. Some are able to achieve their higher education goals only because of the scholarships and other resources that our Warhawks Give fund provides.

Your gift to our Warhawks Give Fund — also referred to as the Greatest Needs Fund — directly supports the university's driving purpose: success for students.

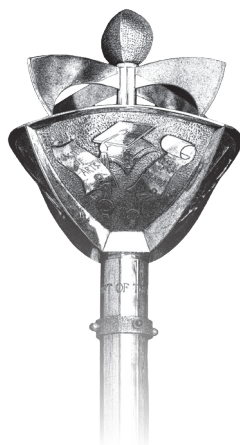

Visit uww.edu/foundation/gradgift to find out how your donation of $20.25 in honor of this graduation year can help keep students in school, so one day their family and friends can be sitting where you are right now — celebrating them and imagining their bright future!

UW-WHITewater CEREMONIAL EMBLEMS

THE MACE

A ceremonial staff called a mace is the official symbol of the university that is carried by a university marshal and signifies that ceremonies such as convocations, dedications and commencements have been officially sanctioned. The mace is a gift of the Class of 1969 in recognition of the academic growth of the university. Designed by Kurt J. Matzdorf of New York, the mace is fashioned entirely of sterling silver, enamels and amethyst and represents the School of Graduate Studies and four of the university's five colleges: Arts and Communication, Business and Economics, Education and Professional Studies, and Letters and Sciences.

The carrier of the ceremonial mace is the W.P. Roseman Excellence in Teaching Award recipient. The award, presented annually to a UW-Whitewater faculty member for outstanding teaching, was established in the memory of W.P. Roseman, who directed the Whitewater campus elementary school from 1919 to 1942. An all-university committee determines the recipient, and the award carries a cash prize. ♦

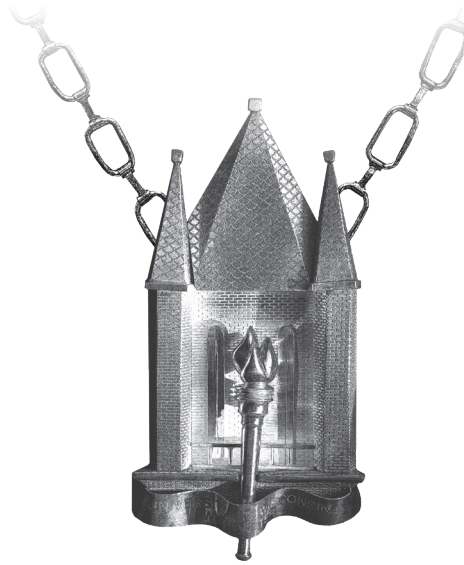

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The cap and gown that faculty and students wear today have a tradition going back to the 12th and 13th centuries, when students and faculty were considered members of the clergy. The bachelor's gown has a closed front and long, pointed sleeves. The master's gown has an open front and extremely long, closed sleeves; the arms protrude through slits at the wrist and the ends of the sleeves are square, with an arc of a circle just above the bottom. The doctor's gown is an open-fronted garment with voluminous bell-shaped sleeves with three black or blue (for philosophy) velvet bars. Gowns are usually black.

The academic hood is edged in colored velvet, which indicates the field in which the degree was earned. The master's hood is three and one-half feet long, with the colors of the edging for degrees granted by UW-Whitewater. The lining of the hood is purple and white, the official academic colors.

Students wearing gold stoles with "Honor" printed on them are graduates of the University Honors Program. Gold cords designate students graduating with Latin honors (cum laude, magna cum laude and summa cum laude). Some students wear sashes reflecting their participation in student organizations. Graduates who studied abroad or who are affiliated with another country may wear satin sashes reflecting the colors of the country's flag. ♦

THE CHANCELLOR'S MEDALLION

The chancellor's medallion signifies the history and aspirations of the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater. Conferral upon the chancellor declares that person's institutional leadership role, investing the solemn rights, responsibilities and privileges attendant with that honor.

The medallion depicts the tower of Old Main, the building that served as the centerpiece of the Whitewater campus from the university's founding in 1868 until it was lost to fire in 1970. The design of artist Linda Threadgill, an emeritus faculty member of the College of Arts and Communication, the medallion was cast and constructed in sterling silver and gold plate. Teresa Faris, associate professor of art and design, designed and constructed a chain of the same materials for the medallion in 2016.

A gift of the UW-Whitewater Foundation, the medallion was originally presented to Chancellor James R. Connor in 1987. ❖

UW-WHITewater ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Alumni Association is the principal organization through which UW-Whitewater graduates continue a relationship with their alma mater. This association seeks to enhance the reputation of its university while providing a variety of services and programming, including free professional development opportunities, the Warhawk Pride alumni e-newsletter, alumni gatherings, Founders Day Alumni Awards, Homecoming alumni activities, the alumni mentor program, class guest-speaking engagements and advisory boards.

Organized in 1952, the Alumni Association has a current membership of almost 110,000 from across the country and around the world. Each semester, hundreds of new graduates join the ranks of this important organization at no cost to them.

Support for the Alumni Association is provided in part by generous alumni donations to the UW-Whitewater Foundation.

Those interested in learning more about the UW-Whitewater Alumni Association should visit the website at uww.edu/alumni. ♦

MORNING CEREMONY SEATING CHART

AFTERNOON CEREMONY SEATING CHART

ALMA MATER

Traditional tune from Scotland

Lyrics by Andrew Baldwin, Class of 2014

We sing to hon-or our great al-ma ma-ter, A place that we keep in our hearts day and night.

And our voi-ces soar just as those here be-fore pro-claim-ing our love for the pur-ple and white.

As we War-hawks fly to un-boun-ding heights we sing, "White-wa-ter White-wa-ter glo-ry to you!"

For we found a home and where ev-er we roam, we sing, "White-wa-ter White-wa-ter War-hawks are we!"
