UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-WHITEWATER

MAY 14, 2022

10 A.M.

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND COMMUNICATION

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS AND ECONOMICS

More than 150 years ago, on April 21, 1868, the state's second normal school opened its doors to the first class of 48 students and nine faculty members.

A progressive spirit guided the development of the institution as it evolved from a normal school, which trained teachers for one-room schools, to Whitewater State Teachers College (1927), Wisconsin State College-Whitewater (1951), Wisconsin State University-Whitewater (1964) and as a member of the 13 four-year institutions in the University of Wisconsin System (1971).

Today, UW-Whitewater is a leading comprehensive university with two campuses serving approximately 11,460 full- and part-time students with 58 undergraduate majors, 18 master's degree programs, one doctoral degree and one education specialist degree in the colleges of Arts and Communication, Business and Economics, Education and Professional Studies, Integrated Studies, and Letters and Sciences. The university awards more than 2,700 degrees every year.

Throughout its history, UW-Whitewater has produced graduates who have actively contributed to the growth of the state and nation. Student learning is the paramount focus of the university's programs and services.

The university takes pride in its regional leadership, national presence and global vision. Many of its academic programs are among the best in the country.

DAWSON BABCOCK

From performing in his first musical in kindergarten, to playing his first instrument — piano — in third grade, Dawson Babcock has been immersed in music.

With a Bachelor of Music in hand, he is determined to inspire the next generation of young musicians.

He's had four field study and student teaching experiences — working with kids from kindergarten through high school, from Wisconsin to New Mexico — and is currently pursuing a career as a middle or high school band director.

"It's definitely a validating feeling for me to be a mentor and share something I'm so passionate about, and to pass those skills and lessons on to others who are equally as passionate. Every day I'm feeling more and more motivated. Teaching has reaffirmed my love for music."

The Janesville native has been gifted with outstanding music educators in his life, from primary school through college. He'll always remember the first time he met Tobie Wilkinson, senior lecturer in the music department.

"I was a senior in high school visiting UW-Whitewater during an open house event and felt the very welcoming culture that exists here — like I was home."

Babcock's expertise is in percussion. "There are millions of potential instruments, but my favorite is marimba. I've performed on objects as unusual as railroad ties, hooked on rope, and once performed using eight metal bowls suspended in the air."

Music teachers need to be skilled in a wide variety of instruments. In addition to piano and percussion, Babcock can play trombone, trumpet, flute, clarinet, sax, oboe, bassoon, and violin —and is learning ukulele and guitar. He's performed in several of UW-Whitewater's ensembles, including the Warhawk Marching Band, Concert Band and Symphonic Wind Ensemble, to name a few.

Involvement is a passion for Babcock. He's proud of his work as a student employee in the Registrar's Office, which "took a chance" on him as a freshman and where he has worked for more than four years, becoming a leader. He is a member of the Hawk Squad — the energetic student orientation team — and serves as a Peer Mentor, shepherding new students through the first year of their college experience to help them find engagement and academic success.

His aim is to have a positive, lasting impact on people.

"Being a Warhawk means being part of a tradition of excellence and making a difference in the community. Whether it's inspiring the next musician or teacher, or someone from another major to pursue their career and their passion — I want to hold myself to a higher standard and encourage them to do the same." ❖

KEVIN NEWELL

Kevin Newell embodies firsts. The first of his siblings to graduate from college. The first African American to build and own a multifamily commercial development in downtown Milwaukee. The first African American to partner with an NBA team to develop a commercial entertainment district.

A proud graduate of Milwaukee Public Schools, he came to UW-Whitewater in the fall of 2003, after submitting one just college application. Led by his mom, Velma "Lorraine," Newell was quickly introduced to one of a few Black faces in leadership — Ms. Freda Briscoe, an advisor for pre-business students. With a guide on how to be successful on campus, Newell became very active with student organizations, including pledging Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc., where he served as chapter president and oversight for all Wisconsin chapters as assistant state director.

Newell earned a BBA in general management in 2007, and one month later graduated from Marquette University's Associate in Commercial Real Estate, or ACRE, program. In 2009, he earned an MBA with an emphasis in finance and management. And he quickly put that business, finance and real estate acumen to use.

In 2010 he founded Milwaukee based Royal Capital Group, a venture and holding company with a focus on urban development and innovation. As CEO, he leads the company's strategic efforts across multiple platforms.

He has been a real estate partner with the Milwaukee Bucks, serving as developer and owner of Five Fifty Ultra Lofts, a key venture in the new $1 billion live-work-play entertainment district.

In 2017, the Business Journal named him to their 40 under 40 list. He has also been named a National Top Real Estate Executive, Regional Top 75 Power Broker, and Top 48 Most Influential African Americans in Wisconsin.

Newell maintains strong ties to campus, serving as a mentor and a speaker, most recently keynoting the 35th Annual Martin Luther King Jr. Commemorative Event. He also serves on the Advisory Board of the College of Business and Economics.

Newell shares two daughters with his college sweetheart, Kellee Wilbourn. In his spare time, he focuses on being a mentor and active member in the community, serving on multiple boards that include finance, homelessness, health and wellness, and other areas that are critical to the success of disenfranchised communities.

He credits his time on campus for his preparedness for the world. He models his actions after a favorite quote that also highlights the importance of being your most authentic self as you maintain a love and self.

"If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue, or walk with kings — nor lose the common touch..." —Rudyard Kipling ❖

UW-WHITewater CEREMONIAL EMBLEMS

THE MACE

A ceremonial staff called a mace is the official symbol of the university that is carried by a university marshal and signifies that ceremonies such as convocations, dedications and commencements have been officially sanctioned. The mace is a gift of the Class of 1969 in recognition of the academic growth of the university. Designed by Kurt J. Matzdorf of New York, the mace is fashioned entirely of sterling silver, enamels and amethyst and represents the School of Graduate Studies and four of the university's five colleges: Arts and Communication, Business and Economics, Education and Professional Studies, and Letters and Sciences.

The carrier of the ceremonial mace is the W.P. Roseman Excellence in Teaching Award recipient. The award, presented annually to a UW-Whitewater faculty member for outstanding teaching, was established in the memory of W.P. Roseman, who directed the campus elementary school from 1919 to 1942. An all-university committee determines the recipient, and the award carries a cash prize. ❖

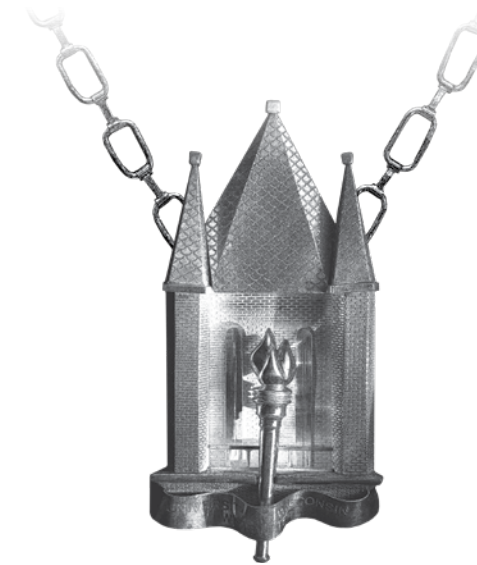

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The cap and gown that faculty and students wear today have a tradition going back to the 12th and 13th centuries, when students and faculty were considered members of the clergy. The bachelor's gown has a closed front and long, pointed sleeves. The master's gown has an open front and extremely long, closed sleeves; the arms protrude through slits at the wrist and the ends of the sleeves are square, with an arc of a circle just above the bottom. The doctor's gown is an open-fronted garment with voluminous bell-shaped sleeves with three black or blue (for philosophy) velvet bars. Gowns are usually black.

The academic hood is edged in colored velvet, which indicates the field in which the degree was earned. The master's hood is three and one-half feet long, with the colors of the edging for degrees granted by UW-Whitewater. The lining of the hood is purple and white, the official academic colors.

Students wearing gold stoles with "Honor" printed on them are graduates of the University Honors Program. Gold cords designate students graduating with Latin honors (cum laude, magna cum laude and summa cum laude). Some students wear sashes reflecting their participation in student organizations. Graduates who studied abroad or who are affiliated with another country may wear satin sashes reflecting the colors of the country's flag. ❖

THE CHANCELLOR'S MEDALLION

The chancellor's medallion signifies the history and aspirations of the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater. Conferral upon the chancellor declares that person's institutional leadership role, investing the solemn rights, responsibilities and privileges attendant with that honor.

The medallion depicts the tower of Old Main, the building that served as the centerpiece of the campus from the university's founding in 1868 until it was lost to fire in 1970. The design of artist Linda Threadgill, an emeritus faculty member of the College of Arts and Communication, the medallion was cast and constructed in sterling silver and gold plate. Teresa Faris, associate professor of art and design, designed and constructed a chain of the same materials for the medallion in 2016.

A gift of the UW-Whitewater Foundation, the medallion was originally presented to Chancellor James R. Connor in 1987. ❖

CHANCELLOR'S GRATITUDE FOR MILITARY SERVICE COIN

Beginning in 2015 under Chancellor Beverly Kopper, the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater Chancellor Gratitude for Military Service Coin is conferred upon graduating veterans and military students who wish to be recognized for their service. ❖

UW-WHITewater ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Alumni Association is the principal organization through which UW-Whitewater graduates continue a relationship with their alma mater. This association seeks to enhance the reputation of its university while providing a variety of services and programming, including free professional development opportunities, Whitewater magazine, the Warhawk Pride alumni e-newsletter, alumni gatherings, alumni travel, Founders Day, Homecoming, the alumni mentor program, class guest-speaking engagements and advisory boards.

Organized in 1952, the Alumni Association has a current membership of more than 100,000 from across the country and around the world. Each semester, hundreds of new graduates join the ranks of this important organization at no cost to them.

Support for the Alumni Association is provided in part by generous alumni donations to the UW-Whitewater Foundation.

Those interested in learning more about the UW-Whitewater Alumni Association should visit the website at www.uw.edu/alumni.

ALMA MATER

Traditional tune from Scotland

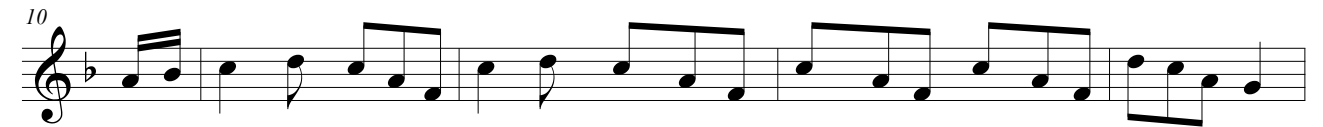

Lyrics by Andrew Baldwin, Class of 2014

We sing to hon-or our great al-ma ma-ter, A place that we keep in our hearts day and night.

And our voi-ces soar just as those here be-fore pro-claim-ing our love for the pur-ple and white.

As we War-hawks fly to un-boun-ding heights we sing, "White-wa-ter White-wa-ter glo-ry to you!"

For we found a home and where ev-er we roam, we sing, "White-wa-ter White-wa-ter War-hawks are we!"
