UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-WHITEWATER
MAY 15, 2021

More than 150 years ago, on April 21, 1868, the state's second normal school opened its doors to the first class of 48 students and nine faculty members.

A progressive spirit guided the development of the institution as it evolved from a normal school, which trained teachers for one-room schools, to Whitewater State Teachers College (1927), Wisconsin State College-Whitewater (1951), Wisconsin State University-Whitewater (1964) and as a member of the 13 four-year institutions in the University of Wisconsin System (1971).

Today, UW-Whitewater is a leading comprehensive university serving approximately 11,842 full- and part-time students on its Whitewater and Rock County campuses with 50 undergraduate majors, 13 master's degree programs, one doctoral degree and one education specialist degree in the colleges of Arts and Communication, Business and Economics, Education and Professional Studies, Integrated Studies, and Letters and Sciences. The university awards more than 2,700 degrees every year.

Throughout its history, UW-Whitewater has produced graduates who have actively contributed to the growth of the state and nation. Student learning is the paramount focus of the university's programs and services.

The university takes pride in its regional leadership, national presence and global vision. Many of its academic programs are among the best in the country.

ANNMARIE LAVORATA

As Annmarie Lavorata looks back on her undergraduate experience at UW-Whitewater, three words come to mind: experience, opportunity, family.

“It all started with my first visit to campus, when I immediately knew ‘this is where I’m supposed to be.’ I absolutely loved the people, the atmosphere, the vibe.”

Her passion is communication — an exciting and expansive field where opportunities for real-world experience abound at UW-Whitewater.

Freshman year, she joined the university radio station, 91.7 The Edge WSUW-FM.

“For someone who struggled with speech and dyslexia, I was surprised to have the encouragement and confidence from my professors and fellow students that I could do this successfully. They threw me right into a broadcasting role.”

Since then, Lavorata has expanded into television, too, serving as an analyst/color commentator for Warhawk football, basketball, softball and volleyball, and contributing reports for the stations’ news programs. The awards quickly followed.

At the 2019 Best of the Midwest Media Fest, Lavorata was honored for her work on “Warhawks Sports Saturday.” Lavorata was also among 12 Warhawks who took home honors at the Wisconsin Broadcasters Association 2020 Student Awards for Excellence.

When ESPN came to Perkins Stadium for the 2019 NCAA Division III semifinal championship football game, Lavorata and her UWW-TV peers worked alongside industry professionals for the live broadcast, assisting with pre-production setup, coordinating commercial breaks and confirming touchdowns and timeouts. The game was broadcast exclusively on the ESPN3 streaming network.

“I still pinch myself that it really happened. Working in the booth with ESPN’s announcing crew was an amazing experience, and I learned a lot. Everyone from the on-air talent to the director answered our questions and treated us with respect.”

Throughout her time as a Warhawk, Lavorata, a communication major from Crystal Lake, Illinois, says she has been surrounded by driven and creative people “who want to push you to be better.” Faculty and staff members like Jim Mead, director of UWW-TV and communication lecturer, have been “incredible.”

“He saw something in me, and continued to push me to be my best.”

After graduation, Lavorata plans to pursue a career in the journalism industry. As a huge sports fan, it would be a dream to work in a job where she can cover the Chicago Red Stars, a professional women’s soccer team.

What does it mean to be a Warhawk? For Lavorata, “It means being a leader. Being myself. Warhawks are involved, strong, and dedicated people who don’t give up on accomplishing their dreams.” ❖

SARAHÍ MONTERREY

As a child immigrant from El Salvador who grew up in public schools, Sarahí Monterrey recognized early on the pivotal role teachers play in students' lives. When it was time to graduate from Badger High School in Lake Geneva and go to college, she knew she wanted to be a teacher. The reputation of UW-Whitewater's education program drew her to enroll.

"For me it was a great-sized campus — I only had one or two lectures," she said. "And there were just so many support systems for students of color. It made my college experience so powerful," said Monterrey.

She was also deeply involved as a student.

"I went to Miami on a travel-study trip during spring break one year to look at the learning and better understand the community. I was involved in Latinos Unidos on campus and worked with Admissions to visit regional high schools with Spanish-speaking students."

And early on she laid the groundwork for what became a key opportunity.

"I went to Whitewater High School when I was a freshman in college and introduced myself, asking if I could be of service," she said. "So by sophomore year I was already able to start working there."

When Monterrey graduated with a bachelor's degree in secondary education and a minor in bilingual education in 2002, the high school's principal called with the opportunity to work half-time as a Spanish teacher and half-time developing the school's bilingual program.

While working as a teacher Monterrey earned her master's degree in 2003 and remained closely connected to campus, working with Upward Bound and eventually becoming assistant director of the university's pre-college programs.

In 2008 she met and married her husband, Mario, and moved to Waukesha. She now works as a bilingual teacher at Waukesha South High School.

She was named Wisconsin's 2018-2019 High School Teacher of the Year and selected as Wisconsin's 2019 representative to the National Teacher of the Year Program, the first Latina in the state to earn this honor. In 2020, she was the recipient of the UW-Whitewater Distinguished Alumna Award for Professional Achievement, which recognized her extensive career developing bilingual curricula and advocating for dual-language programs.

"My approach to teaching embodies my genuine belief that every student has the ability to learn and grow, and that every educator has an obligation to tear down the barriers that stand in their way," said Monterrey. ❖

UW-WHITewater CEREMONIAL EMBLEMS

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The cap and gown that faculty and students wear today have a tradition going back to the 12th and 13th centuries, when students and faculty were considered members of the clergy. The bachelor's gown has a closed front and long, pointed sleeves. The master's gown has an open front and extremely long, closed sleeves; the arms protrude through slits at the wrist and the ends of the sleeves are square, with an arc of a circle just above the bottom. The doctor's gown is an open-fronted garment with voluminous bell-shaped sleeves with three black or blue (for philosophy) velvet bars. Gowns are usually black.

The academic hood is edged in colored velvet, which indicates the field in which the degree was earned. The master's hood is three and one-half feet long, with the colors of the edging for degrees granted by UW-Whitewater. The lining of the hood is purple and white, the official academic colors.

Students wearing gold stoles with "Honor" printed on them are graduates of the University Honors Program. Gold cords designate students graduating with Latin honors (cum laude, magna cum laude and summa cum laude). Some students wear sashes reflecting their participation in student organizations. Graduates who studied abroad or who are affiliated with another country may wear satin sashes reflecting the colors of the country's flag. ❖

THE CHANCELLOR'S MEDALLION

The chancellor's medallion signifies the history and aspirations of the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater. Conferral upon the chancellor declares that person's institutional leadership role, investing the solemn rights, responsibilities and privileges attendant with that honor.

The medallion depicts the tower of Old Main, the building that served as the centerpiece of the campus from the university's founding in 1868 until it was lost to fire in 1970. The design of artist Linda Threadgill, an emeritus faculty member of the College of Arts and Communication, the medallion was cast and constructed in sterling silver and gold plate. Teresa Faris, professor of art and design, designed and constructed a chain of the same materials for the medallion in 2016.

A gift of the UW-Whitewater Foundation, the medallion was originally presented to Chancellor James R. Connor in 1987. It was passed on to Chancellor H. Gaylon Greenhill in April 1992, to Chancellor Jack Miller in April 2000, to Chancellor Martha Saunders in April 2006, to Chancellor Richard Telfer in November 2008, and to Chancellor Beverly A. Kopper in September 2015. It now resides with Chancellor Dwight C. Watson. ❖

— UW-WHITewater ALUMNI ASSOCIATION —

The Alumni Association is the principal organization through which UW-Whitewater graduates continue a relationship with their alma mater. This association seeks to enhance the reputation of its university while providing a variety of services and programming, including free professional development opportunities, Whitewater magazine, the Warhawk Pride alumni e-newsletter, alumni gatherings, alumni travel, Founders Day, Homecoming, the alumni mentor program, class guest-speaking engagements and advisory boards.

Organized in 1952, the Alumni Association has a current membership of more than 100,000 from across the country and around the world. Each semester, hundreds of new graduates join the ranks of this important organization at no cost to them.

Support for the Alumni Association is provided in part by generous alumni donations to the UW-Whitewater Foundation, Inc.

Those interested in learning more about the UW-Whitewater Alumni Association should visit the website at uww.edu/alumni. ❖

Traditional tune from Scotland

Lyrics by Andrew Baldwin, Class of 2014

We sing to hon-or our great al-ma ma-ter, A place that we keep in our hearts day and night.

And our voi-ces soar just as those here be-fore pro-claim-ing our love for the pur-ple and white.

As we War-hawks fly to un-boun-ding heights we sing, "White-wa-ter White-wa-ter glo-ry to you!"

For we found a home and where ev-er we roam, we sing, "White-wa-ter White-wa-ter War-hawks are we!"
