

Federal Direct Parent PLUS Loan Steps and FAQs

The Federal Direct Parent PLUS Loan is a credit-based, federal loan for parents of dependent students. The PLUS (Parent Loan for Undergraduate Students) Loan allows parents to borrow money to cover any educational costs not already covered by the student's other financial aid. The PLUS Loan Application becomes available by the end of the May prior to the start of fall term, and we recommend all these steps be completed prior to August 1 for the fall term or prior to December 1 for spring term. We cannot guarantee funds will arrive before the tuition date if an application is received less than 30 days before the start of the term.

Outlined below are the steps required by the U.S. Department of Education to obtain a PLUS loan:

1. PLUS Loan Application
2. Master Promissory Note

All of the steps are completed online at StudentAid.gov and this document outlines how to complete these steps.

PLUS Loan Application Frequently Asked Questions

- What are my options if the credit check is denied?
 - Appeal the decision. Details on how to appeal are given on the site. Appeals are reviewed by the U.S. Department of Education, not by UW-W.
 - Obtain an endorser (co-signer). If you choose this option, the endorser must complete the "Endorse Direct PLUS Loan" section by signing in to www.studentaid.gov using his or her own FSAID.
 - Not Pursue the PLUS Loan. If you select this option, we will automatically offer your student additional Unsubsidized Federal Direct Loan funds based on the maximum amount allowed. (Freshman/Sophomore - $4,000 max; Junior/Senior - $5,000 max.)

MPN Frequently Asked Questions

- Who should I list as references?
 - The references should be two different persons with different U.S. addresses and who have known you for at least three years.
- Why do I have to provide references?
 - References are provided in case your loan servicer is unable to get in touch with you regarding important details of your loan. If you keep in touch with your loan servicer, answer their calls and emails, and keep your contact information current with them, your references should never be contacted.
- I have already completed an MPN, why am I being asked to complete another one?
 - The MPN only lasts for 10 years. If your first MPN was signed 10 or more years ago you need to complete a new one.
 - If you completed the MPN within one year, but never took out a loan you will be required to complete a new one.
