If you set as moral compass, reflect on it. Don't ignore it. What do you value? What sort of person do you want to be?

Choose your role models wisely.

“ If you only sense how important you are to the lives of those you meet; how important you can be to the people you may never even dream of. There is something of yourself that you leave at every meeting with another person.

Mr. Rogers

“

We live in a world in which we need to share responsibility. It's easy to say 'It's not my child, not my community, not my world, not my problem.' Then there are those who see the need and respond. I consider those people my heroes.

Mr. Rogers

“

Often when you think you're at the end of something, you're at the beginning of something else.

“

Forgiveness is a strange thing. It can sometimes be easier to forgive our enemies than our friends. It can be hardest to forgive people we love. Like all of life's important coping skills, the ability to forgive and the capacity to let go or resentments most likely take root very early in our lives.

Mr. Rogers

“ Whether we’re a preschooler or a young teen, a graduating senior or a retired person, we human beings all want to know that we’re acceptable, that our being alive somehow makes a difference in the lives of others.

Mr. Rogers
